Graffiti on the Washington Monument. Nineteenth-century graffiti discovered by workers renovating the Washington Monument have quite a different tone from those usually found today on the sides of buildings and subway cars.

“Whoever is the human instrument under God in the conversion of one soul, erects a monument to his own memory more lofty and enduring than this,” reads the slightly misspelled inscription, which can now be viewed by visitors to the monument.

It is signed B. F. B. No one knows who that is, or who left the small drawings and 19th-century dates on other walls. But Park Service historians have decided to save the scribbles.

The markings in the lobby of the monument were covered when it was decorated at the turn of the century. They were found when workers removed marble wainscoting as part of a year long, $500,000 renovation that was just completed.

Gary Scott, a National Park Service regional historian, says B. F. B. probably carved the message between 1854 and 1880, when construction stopped on the monument because money had run out. The monument, begun in 1848 with public donations, was completed in 1884 after Congress provided financing. New York Times, July 16, 1994.

"We Believe"

The Bible is absolutely free from error, and is our sole authority in all matters of life and faith. God's gift of salvation and forgiveness of sin is received by each individual graciously through faith alone in the substitutionary death of Jesus Christ which was validated and shown to be acceptable to God by His bodily resurrection. Membership in BPCC is for those who have trusted Christ as their own personal Savior, and who wish to join us in doing His work here on earth. Our financial policy is to invite God's people to support His work by voluntary gifts, in accordance to God's leading and provision. Communion, or the Lord's Table, is a memorial, observed by Christians, of the person whose body was given and whose blood was shed for our salvation. As we look toward the future, we endeavor to grow spiritually in knowledge and love of our Lord, and to grow numerically by faithfully communicating His message of grace and love to those around us.
